

GRADUATE ARCHAEOLOGY AT OXFORD GRADUATE SKILLS SEMINARS

HILARY TERM 2021

Theme: Presenting New Things, Thoughts and Theories'

The graduate skills seminars organised by the GAO are brief introductions to practical topics that aim to give students supplemental skills to enable them to be more versatile in the field and in their future careers.

All are welcome

Seminars are held weekly on Thursday at 4pm

All seminars for this term will take place on-line using Microsoft Teams.

Week 1 (21st January 2021): An Introduction to Ceramic Analysis

Dr Anke Hein (Archaeology & St Hugh's)

<https://bit.ly/35NfUXe>

Week 2 (27th January 2021): An Introduction to Palaeogenetics

Professor Greger Larson (Palaeogenomics & Bio-Archaeology Research Network)

Note this seminar will take place on Wednesday at 4pm, rather than Thursday

<https://bit.ly/35RkOT9>

Week 3 (4th February 2021): An Introduction to Cognitive Archaeology

Emanuele Prezioso (Archaeology & Keble)

<https://bit.ly/2M5jk0n>

Week 4 (11th February 2021): An Introduction to Material Engagement Theory

Emanuele Prezioso (Archaeology & Keble)

<https://bit.ly/2Kt5uok>

Week 5 (18th February 2021): An Introduction to Multi-Scalar Archaeology

Speaker TBC

<https://bit.ly/39LzWmf>

Week 6 (25th February 2021): An Introduction to StoryMaps for Public Archaeology

Jonathan Lim (Archaeology & St Cross)

<https://bit.ly/3qweAQx>

Week 7 (4th March 2021): An Introduction to Global Archaeology

Professor Chris Gosden (Archaeology & Keble)

<https://bit.ly/2XSS4F2>

Week 8 (11th March 2020): An Introduction to Border Archaeology

Dr Andrew Gardner (Institute of Archaeology, UCL)

<https://bit.ly/2LLlhPZ>

Convener: Christopher J. Lyes (Skills Seminar Coordinator for GAO)

christopher.lyes@jesus.ox.ac.uk