

OXFORD CENTRE FOR ASIAN
ARCHAEOLOGY, ART AND CULTURE

Eurasian Archaeology Seminar Series

Unless otherwise stated, seminars are held 16.30–17.30 on Mondays in the Institute of Archaeology Lecture Room, 36
Beaumont St.

The seminar series is designed to create a forum in which anyone with an interest in Eastern European and Asian archaeology can meet and connect with new and ongoing research in this region from both within and beyond Oxford. It is intentionally eclectic in content, with topics from both prehistoric and historical archaeology from the Balkans to Kamchatka. Something for everyone, with many shared challenges spanning different period and regional specialisms.
